June 5, 2008 -- UCLA Philharmonia at the Getty

In the Land of the Headhunters

UCLA Philharmonia accompanies a newly-restored version of Edward Curtis' landmark 1914 silent film In the Land of the Headhunters with its original score by John Braham at the Getty Center's Harold M. Williams Auditorium. This was the first motion picture to exclusively star indigenous North Americans from Kwakwaka'wakw communities in British Columbia. This collaborative project involving the Getty Research Institute, UCLA Film and Television Archives, Field Museum of Natural History and U'Mista Cultural Society in British Columbia is part of a Getty Institute symposium entitled "Documents of an Encounter," exploring the connections between the history and culture of the Kwakwaka'wakw people of British Columbia, Curtis' film and Braham's score. It will also feature a Kwakwaka'wakw performance of traditional dance.

A CELEBRATION OF ERIC ZEISL

A unique evening featuring a performance and live recording of Zeisl's Concerto Grosso for cello and orchestra (1955-56), a work commissioned by Grigor Piatigorsky, but performed only once in 1959. UCLA faculty cellist Antonio Lysy appears as soloist; UCLA Philharmonia is conducted Neal Stulberg. Recorded for eventual commercial release by Yarlung Records, and preceded by a roundtable discussion featuring Professors Lysy and Stulberg, Zeisl biographer and UCLA Professor Emeritus Malcolm Cole, the composer's daughter Barbara Schoenberg and his grandson E. Randol Schoenberg.

This program is part of a multi-year project to produce a series of world-premiere recordings of Zeisl's orchestral works.

SYMPHONIC PRAYERS AND POEMS

Symphonic Prayers and Poems is an artistic statement about the power of music to transcend cultural and religious enmity. Fairouz's Symphony No. 3 (Poems and Prayers) for soloists, chorus and orchestra weaves Jewish sacred texts, verses by Israel's late poet laureate Yehuda Amichai, and the poems of Arab literary giants Mahmoud Darwish and Fadwa Tuqan. His clarinet concerto Tahrir evokes the Arab Spring in Cairo. Krein's hauntingly powerful and rarely heard 1922 cantata Kaddish poses primal questions of faith and doubt. This CAP UCLA performance is part of the series, Listening to the Other: Mideast Musical Dialogues and is preceded by a 6 PM panel discussion.

Mohammed Fairouz	Tahrir for clarinet and chamber orchestra (2011) (West Coast premiere)
Alexander Krein	Kaddish: Symphonic Cantata for Tenor Solo, Mixed Chorus and Large Orchestra, Op. 33 (1921-22) (North American premiere)
